MORryde RPB72-1621HD SAE J2638 Testing to 21,000lbs

Previously the MORryde RPB72-1621HD pin box was tested and rated for 18,000lbs. On May 18, 2020 MORryde began retesting this pin box for a 21,000lbs rating. The pin box was tested per the SAE J2638 criteria for a 21,000lbs pin box. A vertical coupler load rating of 25% or 5,250lbs was used.

Both dynamic and static testing was performed in the vertical, longitudinal, and transverse directions. The dynamic testing was performed for 300,000 cycles in each direction. When the longitudinal and transverse dynamic tests were performed, there was a vertical load applied up to 4,000lbs even though the full 5,250lbs was allowable. Below are tables showing the loads that were applied in each direction along with a graphic showing the direction for the forces applied.

Dynamic Testing
Load Direction	Min	Max
Vertical	1690	8810
Longitudinal	-2680	2680
Transverse	-1810	1810

Static Testing
Load Direction	Compression	Tension
Vertical	17450	10500
Longitudinal	23100	15750
Transverse	6300	6300

After all testing was complete on June 19, 2020, the pin box was still able to lock into a 5th wheel hitch head. Based on this information, the RPB72-1621HD PASSED all requirements for SAE J2638.

SUPERIOR HEAT CONTROL.

Solar reflective glass is specifically engineered to reflect a substantial portion of the sun's rays, significantly reducing the amount of heat that penetrates the interior. This feature is paramount for maintaining a cooler environment inside the travel trailer without overly relying on air conditioning. This capability outperforms dark tint and clear glass, which absorb more heat and can lead to higher interior temperatures.

ENHANCED UV PROTECTION.

While dark tints can offer UV protection, solar reflective glass typically provides superior protection against harmful UV rays. It blocks out a significant percentage of these rays, more effectively protecting the skin and eyes of occupants and preventing the fading and deterioration of interior furnishings, fabrics, and surfaces.

ENERGY EFFICIENCY.

By significantly reducing heat buildup inside the trailer, solar reflective glass enhances the vehicle's energy efficiency. It reduces the need for air conditioning, which not only conserves energy but also extends the lifespan of the vehicle's HVAC system and reduces fuel consumption or electrical usage when stationary. This efficiency is a step up from what dark tint and clear glass can offer, especially in regions with high solar intensity.

PRIVACY AND AESTHETICS.

Solar reflective glass offers a sleek, modern look that can be aesthetically pleasing. During the day, its reflective surface provides privacy from the outside without sacrificing the view from the inside. This dual benefit of privacy and unobstructed views is something that dark tint can partially provide and clear glass cannot offer at all.

DURABILITY AND MAINTENANCE.

Solar reflective glass is often more durable and scratch-resistant than traditional tinted films applied to clear glass. It's designed for longevity and maintains its reflective properties without the risk of peeling or bubbling, common issues with aftermarket dark tints.

COMFORT AND VISIBILITY.

Solar reflective glass strikes an optimal balance between reducing glare and maintaining visibility. It ensures that the interior is comfortable for the eyes even in bright sunlight, without the excessive darkness that can come from heavy tints, ensuring safety and enjoyment of the scenery.
